Life of human is not predictable without light and water. The essence of life is order. The order is the base of everything on human life and light element comes from this order, which provides the life possibility. What ensures the existence and lasting of the order on the earth is ensured by the sun's activity, this is the reason that talking about life we insinuate to the life. This is the reason that the astrologists watching and observing the sky and galaxies look for planets that turn around a sun, because an isolated planet even containing water sources, is not ensure vital conditions without the presence of light.

As we know, man uses and applies artificial light too, to ensure his needs. Human used new technologies in order to provide more artificial light. Although this kinds of light is useful, overusing this light can be the main reason of light pollution, which has a negative effect on life style.
